Do you want to master the techniques of point of view, dialogue, action, setting, pacing, narrative momentum, character-arcs, etc?

Where do you start a story? How do you build to a climax? Where do you feed through a backstory? How do you invent effective names and titles?

Plus advice on good writing habits, revision, understanding publishers—and much much more.

It's all there in these writing tips from Richard Harland, award winning author of fourteen fantasy/horror/SF novels—with his fifteenth, Worldshaker, coming out in May.

This is a website as big as a book—for free! Take advantage!
